

GENERAL ANTHONY ZINNI

SENIOR ADVISOR TO THE CHAIRMAN

General Anthony Zinni comes to Arcanum with almost 40 years of service in the U.S. Marine Corps, as well as several years of experience in the fields of diplomacy, industry and academia. The retired four-star General was Commander of the U.S. Central Command (CENTCOM) and Special Envoy for the U.S. to Israel and the Palestinian Authority. General Zinni's distinguished military career has taken him to more than 70 countries and included numerous command assignments at the platoon, company, battalion, regimental, Marine expeditionary unit, and Marine expeditionary force command levels. His joint assignments included command of a joint task force and a unified command.

Over the course of his military service career, General Zinni earned 23 personal awards and 37 unit, service and campaign awards, including the Defense Distinguished Service Medal, the Navy Distinguished Service Medal, the Defense Superior Service Medal, the Bronze Star with Combat "V" device and the Purple Heart.

Since his retirement from the United States Marine Corps, General Zinni has continued to serve his country in numerous diplomatic positions, to include the U.S. Peace Envoy in the Middle East and the Special Envoy to the Henri Dunant Centre for Humanitarian Dialogue (an Indonesian, Filipino and Sudanese peace effort), and in missions to Pakistan, Somalia, Eritrea and Ethiopia.

General Zinni serves on the boards of several corporations, universities and other organizations. He has been President, CEO and Chairman of the Board of BAE Systems, Inc., where he remains a board member. He has also served as a board member of DynCorp International before being appointed Executive Vice President within that organization. Since 2011, he has been a member of the board of the Peace Research Endowment. He is also Honorary Chairman of The Middle East Institute.

General Zinni has participated in numerous environmental security, defense, diplomacy and leadership studies and has authored best sellers Battle Ready and The Battle for Peace. His most recent book, Leading the Charge, was published in August 2009. He has held academic positions that include the Stanley Chair in Ethics at the Virginia Military Institute; the Nimitz Chair at the University of California, Berkeley; the Hofheimer Chair at the Joint Forces Staff College; and the Harriman Professorship of Government at the Reves Center for International Studies at the College of William and Mary. He is also a Distinguished Military Fellow of the Center for Defense Information, a part of the World Security Institute.
